

SAR & QIP REVIEW

About us

The range of these services have been developed as a result of extensive experience as inspectors and our continuous detailed analysis of inspection reports. Our aim is to provide clients with a customised service tailored to meet your individual needs and support you in continuing to improve the quality of your provision.

The self-assessment report is a shop window into the providers understanding of their own provision. The SAR is a critical evaluation and improvement tool, focusing on the impact of strategic oversight and operational management on learner progress and success. The support offered will develop your ability to accurately self-evaluate and produce a report, supported by evidence that truly reflects your provision.

Our highly specialised team will provide you with invaluable insights on the planning, processes, and purposeful use of self-assessment. This will help you to make the best use of your investment in quality improvement activities and support your development of an invaluable self-assessment report (SAR) and Quality Improvement Plan (QIP).

How it works

Our team will read your SAR critically to ensure that it provides governors, senior leaders and managers, and other interested parties (including Ofsted) with a clear summary of your assessment of the quality and impact of the provision over the preceding year/s.

Our detailed feedback provides invaluable information as to what an external reader gleans from your report, including: the clarity of judgements (aligned to the EIF), the use of data to describe performance over time, as well as the track record of senior managers in driving improvement. The review will also consider the findings of recently published inspection reports and current areas of focus related to Ofsted thematic reviews.

In addition, your adviser will read the accompanying quality improvement plans (QIP) to ensure that strategic leaders and operational managers clearly identify how they plan to consolidate current strengths and swiftly resolve the remaining significant areas for improvement in the SAR. They will provide challenge and support in identifying appropriate success milestones for planned interventions.
